Ghost Hunter University at the Hotel Maison de Ville

Do apparitions have whole bodies? Can you tell a ghost is in the room by temperature changes? Do ghosts talk? Should I talk back to ghosts? Should I be scared?

Answers to all these questions, plus an amazing ghost tour of the Maison de Ville and the Audubon Cottages is all part of Ghost Hunter University, scheduled for Saturday, April 2nd at the Hotel Maison de Ville. Guests will have the choice of attending the entire Ghost Hunter weekend, or choose various options offered on Saturday.

Saturday afternoon, we present “Ghost Hunting 101 – A Primer.” Renowned ghost hunter Christopher Moon -owner of Haunted Times Magazine – and his staff will present the basics of ghost hunting, including an introduction to ghost hunting theory and the use of technical equipment for real ghost hunting. If you’d like to bring your own ghost hunting tools, you’ll get expert advice on how to use them

Saturday evening brings “The Ghost Hunter Experience.” We’ll start with a ghoulishly gourmet dinner, served in the hotel’s historic Bistro. The Haunted Times staff will give the haunted history of the hotel to get you ready for the highlight of your evening, while the ghost hunters also follow up with background information on their previous paranormal investigation of the hotel.

After dinner, the ghost hunters will conduct a two-hour ghost tour of the hotel. The ghost hunters will demonstrate the use of ghost hunting equipment and take you to the hot spots of the hotel, where you’ll have the chance to experience the paranormal for yourself. They’ll answer all your questions about ghosts that you’ve been dying to ask.

Sound interesting? A little frightening? Go ahead and give it a try – you may find a daring new hobby! “Ghost Hunting 101” and “The Ghost Hunter Experience” is only $125 per person for dinner, lecture & tour. Overnight packages (highly recommended for the full immersion into ghost hunting) are also available for a great rate.
